

A large round wooden table is covered with various items, including cash, drugs, weapons, and electronics. The items are arranged in a somewhat organized manner, suggesting a display of evidence. The cash includes several 50 Euro and 20 Euro banknotes. The drugs are in various forms, including bags of white powder, small packets, and several cylindrical packages. The weapons include a handgun, a knife, and a long blade. The electronics include several mobile phones, some in their original packaging, and a small electronic device. There are also some small white cards or labels scattered around the items. The background shows a tiled floor and the legs of people standing around the table.
